

Immanuel is a partner at Baker Tilly Virchow Krause, LLP, a global accounting and advisory firm with 35,000 team members throughout 746 offices in 145 territories across the world.

Previously, he was a partner at Grant Thornton LLP where he held several key leadership positions over his career and served clients in the technology, medical devices, life sciences, software, manufacturing and distribution, telecommunications and service industries. For several years, Immanuel led the firm's technology practice in Philadelphia and throughout the Northeast region, while also serving as the national life science practice co-leader and the national software industry leader.

Immanuel has successfully taken clients through the IPO process and has served large, medium and emerging public and private companies throughout his career. He is a thought leader and a frequent speaker at external conferences. Immanuel has also authored whitepapers and publications and has led roundtable events for C-level participants covering a wide range of business topics.

He is currently the treasurer and on the boards of the Philadelphia-Israel Chamber of Commerce (PICC) and the Greater Philadelphia Alliance for Capital and Technologies (PACT). In 2016, he completed his three-year tenure on the Pennsylvania Institute of Certified Public Accountants (PICPA) Professional Ethics Committee and the PICPA IT Assurance Committee.

Immanuel has also served as a judge for the Wharton Entrepreneurship Business Plan Competition. He is a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA) and the Pennsylvania Institute of Certified Public Accountants (PICPA). He holds an MBA in accounting and finance from Emporia State University and an M.A. in economics from Madras Christian College. He is a licensed CPA in Pennsylvania and New Jersey.